Crown flour mill nigeria

Crown Flour Mills/OLAM to start cultivating grain wheat - by Gbenga Akinfenwa/Guardian The Nigerian wheat milling industry has the potential to create more than 10 million jobs in the value chain. Anurag Shukla, Managing Director, Olam Grain, Nigeria, revealed this during the Crown Atta Mills Customers Forum Gala night in Abuja, saying that the flour milling industry is a business that can provide employment, adding that Olam Grain subsidiary Crown Atta Mills plans to venture into wheat cultivation as part of its backward integration drive. Highlighting opportunities in the Nigerian wheat milling industry, Shukla said wheat cultivation is something that has been close to the company's hearts since it started 30 years ago. He said the company is currently working with the Wheat Farmers Association and the federal government to boost commodity production in the country. This is one of our origin centre areas because we believe that Nigeria can develop wheat, particularly in the northern region. The company has been expanding its footprint in the flour milling industry since 2010 when it first acquired Crown Flour Mills. With the recent Dangote flour acquisition proposal, the company will emerge the largest flour miller operator in the country. In his welcome address, Vice President-Commercial, Crown Atta Mills, Bolji Enifoz, said the event was meant to celebrate the company's annual awards for all its customers across the country. He said Crown Dough is a full customer-centric compliance company, noting that the company will launch a loyalty club for its customers across the country. We will ensure that we support our customers individually to ensure that they keep growing more than their competitors. Abuja Chapter, President of the Association of Master Bakers and Caterers of Nigeria, Ishaq Abdul Rahim said the company's excellent marketing strategy has continued sales for its products compared to other competitors. Crown dough is a unique way of marketing unlike its competitors. Rahim said the strategy is excellent and he is increasing his customer base. Similarly, Medini Sanusi of the Opemi bakery industry in Lagos, who was one of the dealers identified by the award, commended the company for the awards initiative. Page 2 As the world's largest food and beverage company we are inspired by a simple objective: enhancing the quality of life and contributing to a healthy future. To deliver on this, we serve with passion, with a sense of excellence, offering products and services for all stages of life, every moment of the day, helping people care for themselves and their families. Our culture is based on values inherent in our respect: respect for ourselves, respect for others, respect for diversity and respect for the future. We can trace its origins in 1866, when the first European condensed milk factory was opened in Cham, Switzerland by the Anglo-Swiss condensed milk company. A year later, Henry Nestle, a trained pharmacist, launched one of the world's first prepared infant cereal 'Farine Lacty' in Wewe, Switzerland. Today, we employ about 328,000 people and factory or operate in almost every country in the world. With our headquarters still based in the Swiss city of Veve, we had sales of CHF 89.5 billion in 2016. Our portfolio includes almost every food and beverage category – offering products and services for all stages of life, every moment of the day, helping people take care of themselves and their families.
